Dancing the Asian American Experience

Monday, May 3, 2021, 6 PM

What is it like to be an Asian American choreographer in the United States in 2021? Four talented, contemporary Asian American choreographers, each representing a different dance style and all with an NYC connection, talk about their work and discuss their experiences in the dance world and in present-day America. Moderated by Phil Chan, author of Final Bow for Yellowface: Dancing Between Intention & Impact. This virtual program is being presented by Chatham Square Library, Outreach Services and Adult Programming, and Jerome Robbins Dance Division of NYPL. Limited to 250 people.

Registration is required. Register at <https://on.nypl.org/3mEPZsa>

The event link will be sent to you the day of the discussion.
