BROOKLYN, NY - On Friday, April 21st at 7pm, Groupmuse presents Muzosynth Orchestra, partnering with Vogue UniverCity and Carroll Hall, for an evening of “MotoSynthesis”, an unprecedented collaboration of sound synthesis, live coding, and Voguing. It takes place at Carroll Hall at 2 Vandevort Place, Brooklyn, NY. Tickets are $20, purchased at the event page, and $15 for Groupmuse Supermuser members.

Groupmuse is a worker- and musician-owned cooperative seeking to uplift artists and strengthen broader community bonds through live, intimate performances of historically-rooted music.

Their next Massivemuse, “MotoSynthesis”, presents Muzosynth Orchestra (formerly the Moving Orchestra), who The Road to Sound has described as combining “lightness with their passion for complex improvisation, making experiences that feel both musically illuminating and human.”

Muzosynth-founders violinist Katherine Kyu Hyeon Lim and pianist Joey Chang combine with:

House of Zion founder and Voguing dancer Pony Zion (featured on The Cut)

Voguing dancer Jvy Mugler of iconic House of Miyake-Mugler

Lumen Prize “Golden Award”-winning group Elekhlekha (synth-player Kengchakaj Kengkarnka and visual live coder Nitcha Fame Tothong)

Through each artists’ talent for on-the-spot improvisation, this unheard of combination presents a whole new way of performance.

Katherine and Joey share, “We are so excited for the incredible people we are gathering with. Combining the languages of electronic music, live coding, and Vogue is a monumental opportunity. In our first rehearsals with Pony Zion, we knew it was possible to build an incredible language together, and we have long admired the mindblowing collaboration between Kengchakaj and Nitcha. We all care so much about our communities of Black, Brown, and Asian artists, and we simply cannot wait to show what we’ve made together.”
